How to get to the venue:

By public transport:

The Grenoble railway station is located in the city centre, which is approximately 12 minutes away from the venue by public transport. The station is connected to the high-speed TGV network, with frequent trains running to and from Paris, and it's also served by regional TER trains.

Starting from Grenoble railway station, walk over to the bus stop Gares (220m / 4 minutes). From there, take the bus line B in the direction of Grenoble, Oxford. After 4 stops, you will reach the station Marie-Louise Paris – CEA. Get off and walk over to the venue (approximately 1 minute).

By plane:

Grenoble has its own airport (www.grenoble-airport.com), yet it is small and not very well connected. Possible alternatives are the airport in Lyon (www.lyonaeroports.com; approximately 1 hour away; recommended) or the airport in Geneva (<https://www.gva.ch/en/>; approximately 2.5-3 hours away).

There is a direct train connection from Lyon-St Exupéry (TGV) to Grenoble, leaving approximately every 20 minutes. The journey time is 1 hour. The train station is located outside the airport, with a walking distance of 5 minutes. Once arrived at Grenoble railway station, please see the description above for the route via public transport.

There are also other direct connections to Grenoble station with FlixBus and BlaBlaCar Bus leaving from the airport Lyon multiple times per day.

From Geneva airport there are also bus and train connections to Grenoble but you would have to change buses or trains multiple times which is why the journey from Lyon airport is recommended.

By car:

Some highways are useful to come to Grenoble. A48 is the road from Lyon and A41 comes from Geneva.

Coming from Lyon on the A48: take the exit N481 in the direction of Grenoble/ Bastille/ Gare /Europole. Follow the street until you can take the exit 16 in the direction of Europole/Polygone Scientifique. From there it's less than 1km to the venue. Coming from Geneva on the A41: take the exit Grenoble/Albertville/Chambéry and follow the street until you reach the exit N87 in the direction of Gières/Domaine Universitaire. Lastly, take the exit Sassenage/Polygone Scientifique/ZI Fontaine. From here it's less than 2km to the venue.

Please note that since the venue is located in an eco-neighbourhood, only few parking spots are available.
